Working in Boulder

Help us make a difference in the energy world.

Utilities, energy providers, and corporate energy managers face many challenges—technologies, customer care, limited resources, and more. We help our clients navigate these challenges and prepare for the future by providing research, insight, and analysis. And as a company, we're committed to using our resources wisely. See what we've done to be green.

Have some fun while you're at it.

Working at E Source requires a strong work ethic, sharp intellect, and high energy, but we balance that with great parties, a casual work environment, and fun activities. Just look at some of the fun we've had recently!
