

E Source Powerwalking Videos

---

Welcome to the hottest reality show in the energy business: Powerwalking. Our chief correspondent, Bill LeBlanc, approaches random people on the street and asks them what they think about energy, utilities, and the environment. These tongue-in-cheek videos are a great way to see just how confusing our industry can be.

Click the thumbnails or links to open videos in a new window.

Powerwalking 2009

Check out this latest installment to learn what everyday people think about the smart grid, utility bills, and how they can save energy. We chat with people from Atlanta, San Francisco, and the Denver/Boulder area to see what they do or don't know about energy.

Powerwalking 2007

We travel to the popular tourist cities of Chicago and Washington, DC, where we find people to talk to from all over North America. Everyone seems to want to talk about energy and the environment in 2007, but sometimes what they believe is true can really surprise you.

Who Is the Secretary of Energy?

Strategically located just outside the White House in Washington, DC, we attempt to discover who is the United States Secretary of Energy in 2007.

Powerwalking 2006

From the streets of Denver and Boulder, Colorado.

Powerwalking 2002

World premier. Includes the "Enron Song."

---

Integrity Policy || Site Map || Privacy Policy || Terms of Use

© 1986-2011 E Source Companies LLC. All rights reserved.

Distribution outside subscribing organizations limited by license.

View basic member license agreement.